PUBLICATIONS

Field of Vision Documentary Shorts

Director Alex Gibney examines Post-Soviet Russia from the perspective of Mikhail Citizen K

impact on democracy.

After Net Neutrality: A New Deal for the Digital Age

Berman outlines the history and politics of net neutrality and argues for a more equitable framework for regulating access to the internet.

The Power of Sports: Media and Spectacle in American Culture investigates and critiques the cultural production of today's lucrative, ubiquitous sports surveillance developed over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Emily van der Meulen offers perspectives on the history and impact of systems of state investigated and critiques the cultural production of today's lucrative, ubiquitous sports. The Power of Sports: Media and Spectacle in American Culture conflicting accounts to answer questions of what exactly happened inside the FBI, in Deep State: Trump, the FBI and the Rule of Law

We are in uncharted waters. Political intimidation threatens media practitioners worldwide, and disinformation campaigns destabilize public trust. The Center for Media Accountability and its broader sociocultural effects.

In this episode of Reporting's podcast "Reveal," host Al Leston speaks with media critic Jay Rosen and journalist Soledad O'Brien about the state of the news in the age of the tweet.

The Ethics of Forgetting

Natalia Roudakova's lecture on the professional unraveling of journalism in Russia after the fall of the Soviet Union

Faleeha Hassan: 'The Maya Angelou of Iraq'

This six-part audio series hosted by Nikole Hannah-Jones is part of the "1619 Podcast" series. The series explores how black Americans have been systemic and endured slavery in the world's first slave-owning democracy.

Reveal Podcast: "Commander in Tweet"

This six-part audio series hosted by Nikole Hannah-Jones is part of the "1619 Podcast" series. The series explores how black Americans have been systemic and endured slavery in the world's first slave-owning democracy.

The Ethics of Forgetting

Natalia Roudakova Colloquium at the Annenberg School, Room 300 November 6, 12:00pm

The Ethics of Forgetting

Natalia Roudakova Colloquium at the Annenberg School, Room 500 November 6, 6:00pm

The Ethics of Forgetting

Natalia Roudakova Colloquium at the Annenberg School, Room 300 November 6, 12:00pm

The Ethics of Forgetting

Natalia Roudakova Colloquium at the Annenberg School, Room 500 November 6, 6:00pm

\[ \text{https://www.ascmediarisk.org/} \]